Old 26-L. P. Ohliger. *Re-elected COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10.-The indications are that Ohio has gone democratic for the first time in a presidential year, though it may require the official count to determine the result.

Chairman Farley, of the democratic state ing safe in the belief that the republicans had a substantial plurality in the state, but his secretary and W. A. Taylor, cannidate for secretary of state, remained at headquarers, and at 10 o'clock Wednesday night they had received unofficial returns from all but three countries in the state, on which they claim a plurality for the candidates on the democratic tinket of 600, and that the Cleveland electors have been chosen by possibly a reduced ma-jority. The two committees exchanged figures at the above hour, and there were no startling variations in the returns received.

At the republican headquarters, with Chairman Dick and Candidate S. M. Taylor, for sec retary of state, present, they had received un-official returns from all but four counties. The returns to both sommittees are in response to telegrams sent the county chairmen. They claim a plurality of 116 at the republican head quarters, and concede it will require the official count to determine the matter. Mr. Taylor, re-publican, states that he noted in the returns received that he ran about even with the Harri-son electors, hence it is concluded if the republican state ticket is defeated that the Cleveland electors will be chosen.

CINCINSATI, Nov. 10.—The story of Tuesday's national election, as the more complete returns come in is soon told. It was announced that Grover Cleveland had been elected president of the United States, but the measure of his victory was not then known, nor is it yet fully es-tablished, for there are still remaining in doubt-ful column four states, having an electoral vote of 38. And, strange to say, our own Ohio contributes 23 of these, California, Montana and Wyoming are represented in the remaining fifteen.

Mr. Cleveland has carried every scate that is usually democratic, adding to his force the hitherto reliably republican states of Illinois and Wisconsin. Weaver has secured the votes of Colorado, Kansas, Nebraeka and Nevada, and one of the four votes of Oregon. For the first time since 1800 is the electoral vote di-visied between three candidates.

The surprise and sensation of the day, politically, is the slump of Ohio, always considered as immovable from the republican column in a presidential year as the rock of Gibraitar from its anchorage at the entrance to the Med-iterranean. Tuesday night her republican majority was estimated at 23,000, and Wednesday morning the democratic state committee conceding 15,000, closed up shop. What these figures were based upon-no one knows, but late day afternoon the startling news came from Columbus that the democrats were claiming the state. Lo and behold, as the returns me in showing great falling off from the Mo Kinley vote in almost every county they seemed to justify the claim. Believing from its special telegrams from all over the state that it will require the official vote to determine the result, the Commercial Gazette reluctantly withdraws Ohto from the Harrison column and places it in the doubtful list in the table that follows

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 .- At present there are in the senate forty-seven republicans, thirty-nine democrats and two Farmer's Allianoe men. It looks now as though, after the 4th of March next there will be forty-three republicana, forty-three democrats, and two Farmer's Alliance representatives. One of these (Senator Pfuffer, of Kansas), would probably vote with the republican party. Should Senator Kyle in-mist on boing on the other side of any moment-ops question, there could easily be a tie, and this would have to be broken by the casting this would have to be broken by the casting vote of the vice-president, who would necessar

The terms of twenty-size members of the will expire March I next. Eighteen of these are republicans and eleven are demo-crats. Of the latter, there was some doubt as to the return of three—Faulkner, of West Vir-ginia: Turple, of Indians, and Gray, of Dela-Figures already in would seem to show die clearly that Senator Faulkner will un-subtedly be re-elected. It is possible that the same disposition may be made of Senator Gray's case, but nothing definite can be asmed until the political status of the state is ade more clear. If it is true that Indiana has cons democratic, Mr. Turple will probably suc-led himself. The other democrats, whose erms expire March 3, are practically sure of e-election; or, if there should be personal rouble between themselves and their legisla-ures, the places the senators vecate would be filled by members of the democratic party.

Of the eighteen republican senators whosterms expire in March, ten are reasonably se cure as to re-slection. These are senators Al-Hode Island: Allen, Washington: a Massichusetts: Felton, California: Minine: Hawiey, Conrecticut: Proctor, ont: Quay, Pennsylvania; Sherman, Ohio,

The eight republican seats which were some time ago regarded as doubtful are those of Senter Paddook, of New York; senator Banders, of Montanus Senator Sawyer, of Wisconsin; Senator Stockbridge, of Michigan Senator Stowart, of Novada, and Senator Davis, of Minnesota.

Of these Senator Risouch will certainly be undeeded by a democrat, and there are obtong thances that a like fate may befull Senator Paddook. Senator Stockbridge is almost certain to come out estimate otorily in Michigan, and

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 .- The returns from Illinois chicago, Nov. 16.—The returns from lilinois are still incomplete, but all indications point to the carrying of the state by Cleveland and Stevenson by a plurality of from 8,000 to 10,000. The entire democrate state ticket is also elected and the democrate have a majority of the congressional delegation and have apparently congressions: delegation and have apparently gained control of both branches of the state legislature. In view of the fact that there is to be a redistricting this coming winter, the election of governor and both branches of the legislature by the democrats is of the utmost importance to that party and will enable them to so gerrymander the state as to gain great per-manent advantage in congressional, legislative and judicial districts.

The republicans, while generally conceding the state to Cleveland and the democratic state ticket, still insist there is a possibility of re-publican supremacy n the lower house of the general assembly.

The democratic victors in Illinois is apparently due to two causes, the perfect organization of the state by Chairman Cabel and his colcommittee, went home early Wednesday morn-leagues of the democratic national campaign committee and the general defection of the German Lutheran voters in the Republican party It was fully expected that the Gormans would support Altreld, the German American canditicket. This unanimous indorsement of democratic andidates is probably due to the recent action of the Lutheran leaders in recommending that the German Lutherans support the entire democratic ticket to the end that democratic con-trol of the legislature might be secured and the repeal of the compulsory school has thereby assured. The county returns show that the tariff question is still a live issue with the farm-ers, and that the democrats have gained about the same advantage in the agricultural districts over the agitation of this issue that they realized two years ago. It is probable therefore that the democrats will retain their majority in the congressional delegation.

In order to carry the state the gain to the precinct must be Indiana is close. The democratic state committee claims that Cleveland has the state by 5,000. This is based on returns from eighteen countles which show a net democratic gain over 1888 of 2,500.

Chairman Gowdy, of the republican commitee, says that the later roturns from the ga belt region will help change the complexion of the returns now in.

Unless this is the case the state is demo cratic. The Western Union bulletins show an increased republican vote of nearly 7 to the precincts over 1800. If maintained, this ratio w leave the result so close that it would take the official returns to feelds. The democrats have the legislature, and olaim eleven of thirteen congressmen. There were in the party Chairman Wm. F. Harrity, Don M. Dickinson, Charles S. Fairchild, Wm. C. Whitney, C.C. Baldwin, Henry Villard and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland came out apon the portico and Mr. Cleveland made a short speech in acknowledgement of the congratulations.

D., commenced Wednesday afternoon in the Scotch Presbyterian church. Moderator John C. Bliss was in the chair, and about mortgage of $50,000 on its plant. 215 of the ministers and elders composing the New York Presbytery, the body which is sitting in judgment upon Dr. Briggs, were present. Dr. Briggs was on hand early. After the prayer opening the trial, the moderator asked for the charges, but was inter-rupted by Dr. Briggs, who asked leave terial.

At the recent election the democrate (2) W. H. Cox. (2) Robert Fickin. (3) Conard Rudy. (3) H. L. Newell. to interpose several objections. In a short address he outlined the lines the prosecution had taken in regard to the old charges, and contended that the prosecuting committee had no power to now bring these new ones.

Col. J. J. McCook, counsel for the prosecuting committee, answered the objections very technically, but deplored the fact that he was compelled to have to argue with the defendant. Dr. Briggs, when Col. McCook had finished, arose to reply, but was checked by Rev. Robert Booth, who made the point of order that the discussion was irregular. Mr. Briggs claimed that he had only been able to state his objections, while the prosecuting committee had been allowed to answer them, and say several other things which he could controvert by quotations from theological law. The request to allow him to answer the prosecution was denied by the moderator, and on Dr. Briggs' appeal from this decision it was put to a vote and the moderator sustained-75 to 5. The amended charges and specifications against Dr. Briggs were then read as revised and a little more explicit, and with more attention to detail than the old charges. They occupy thirty-five pages of a good-sized book, but cover the same ground as the old charges. They were compiled and signed by the full prosecuting committee.

DEFEAT CALMLY TAKEN.

The President Quietly Takes Up the t usiness of the Executive.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10 .- If the other leaders of the republican party take defeat as calmly as the president does, they will not be much disturbed by the results of Tuesday's election. The president went to his room Tuesday night at about 1 o'clock and went to bed. At that hour he did not concede defeat, although he realized how close a margin there was for speculation on possible success. His only hopes were based on Illinois. He did not believe that the state had gone democratic, and be had private dispatches which confirmed what the bulletins seemed at that time to say about Indiana that it had been saved to the republican party. Until one of these states was lost absolutely he would not give up the battle. He had started to his bedchamber at half-past 12, but had been recalled to hear later news from Illinois and Indiana, which seemed to be of a favorable character. The telegraph room was kept open long after the president had gone to bed. Russell Harrison and Lieut. Parker remained to read the later news until 4 o'clock. Then the key was closed and the tele graph room was abandoned for the night The president rose at his usual hour Wednesday morning, and, after family prayers in which all the members of the family joined, went down to breakfast at 8 o'clock. He saw the morning paper at breakfast, but it contained very little news more than he had known when he went to bed. He finished reading the paper in his library after breakfast, and at half past 9 o'clock came into his office and took up the business of the day as calmly and as quietly as he did two days ago, when the issues of the election still hung uncertain in the balance.
